Clinical data

• Blood test data was analyzed using two way ANOVA including cluster (worst, middle, least), sex (female, male) and the interaction effect.

• After multi-test correction (BH, 1995)
  – none of the blood tests show significant difference for the clusters.
  – A few tests show significant difference for female and male, such as creatinine RBC.